

Welcome to our Blog

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 05 November 2009 04:24 - Last Updated Friday, 20 November 2009 04:41

Precision Design's green team offers zest, innovation, and clarity to our clients' marketing campaigns with a team of three designers, two copywriters, a website/SEO expert, and a Spanish translator.

We developed the Stamp of Approval (an administrative and quality control system) to aid PD team members in functioning effectively on multiple projects between our California and Colorado offices. Many of us have worked together for a decade or more. Each of us offers special talents that collectively give our public outreach material exceptional visual dynamics and generate measurable results.

Since 1994, we have focused our green passion on innovative marketing and public outreach materials that enlighten people and motivate them to protect our environment.

Over the next several months we will host a variety of articles and case studies on campaigns we've worked on, large and small, the challenges we faced and the results achieved.